Fall Meeting at the Cincinnati Trotting Park.—Second Day.—The race over the Cincinnati Trotting Park, vesterday afternoon, for a purse of $250, mile heats, best three in five, to harness, free for all trotters, was very largely attended. There were but three entries, "Bolly Lewis," "Ike Cook," and "Reindeer," the latter being successful in three straight heats, to the chagrin of many betters, who believed "Bolly Lewis" would win the race. The latter horse, however, acted badly in every heat, and would trot, for a short distance, just well enough to excite the hopes of his friends, when he would break and fall hopelessly behind. "Reindeer" trotted well from the start, while "Ike Cook" made no effort whatever to win. We STEAMBOATS. THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, AT 4 P. M. For Parkersburg and Marietta.

were an advantage, and ought to be encouraged.

Mr. Marsh interrupted the speaker, when the latter said that the amendment was only put in to give the author (Mr. Marsh) a chance to speak; it was not intended for any good.

Mr. Eggleston made a speech in opposition to the ordinance. He wanted the company to make a proper exhibit, before he would do any thing. That exhibit the company would not make, though required to do so by resolution of the Council. That was the way private individuals transacted their business. Because street-railroad stock was not good, Council should not be called upon to interfere. He had some bad stock, but he did not ask the city to indemnify him.

good upon the greatest number.

Mr. Moore could see no use of this debate;
the whole ordinance was so simple and so plain, it ought to stand on its merits. He wanted to vote, not to talk; but if there was to be debate, he intended to have his share. The ordinance proposed to benefit the peo-ple, and therefore he favored it. Railroads

Mr. Eggleston moved an amendment requiring the ordinance to be submitted to the people. Lost, Ayes 14, nays 15.

Mr. Weasner wished to enter his protest for the last time. All was now fixed, and the measure would pass, but he wished to have it understood that it would not be by his vote. He said that many a poor person rode in the cars that had better take the money to buy hread. He then rehearsed how he used to do.

Mr. Noble here requested that the speaker talk lower, as he wanted to take a nap.

The speaker then continued for some time, when Mr. Cunningham moved to adjourn, which was lost.

Mr. Whitcomb said that members had said people had not asked this change; but this was not the case. His constituents had asked him to vote for the repeal.

Mr. Eggleston moved to lay the ordinance on the table, and make it the special order for next Wednesday evening.

The question was then taken on the engrossment and lost; ayes 17; nays 9, as follows, eighteen votes being required:

Ayes—Bosley, Craren, Davis, Hawkins, Hirst, Johnston, Mack, Manson, Moore, Noble, Perry, Sprague, Stokes, Toohey, Whitscomb, Whitson and President.

Nays—Baker, Eggleston, Frazer, Glass, Hannan, Katenkamp, Marsh, Shearer and Wessner.

The Council then adjourned.

COVINGTON NEWS.

IMPORTANT ARREST.—A man named Joseph Larue, indicted about three years since, in Preble County, Ohio, for stealing some cattle, was yesterday arrested in Shelby-ville, in this State, and lodged in jail. He had been arrested and held to bail by the authorities of Ohio, soon after the offense was committed, but forfeited his recognizance, and fied. His family has been residing in Covington for some time. He will siding in Covington for some time. He will be returned, as a fugitive from justice, as soon as a requisition is received from the Governor of Ohio.

Mayon's Count .- A man named William haroa's court.—A man named william Teigert was, yesterday, fined $5 and costs, by Mayor Goodson, for disorderly conduct. It appears that he and a companion went to the Indian Queen Coffee-saloon, called for and ate some oysters, but when asked for the pay, refused, and abused Mr. Elitch, the proprietor, who caused his arrest.

Union Bannecuz.—A large Union barbecue was held at Florence yesterday, but from some cause, no speakers appeared.

January Election.—H. E. Wilson is a candidate for City Clerk. If elected, he will, no doubt, make a good officer.

THE GROVER & BAKER SEWING-MACHINE.
The number lof [Sewing-machines] making the Grover & Baker stitch now sold in the United States, far exceeds that of all others combined. The truth is, since the people have found out, by experience, the value of this stitch, the well-informed will use no other. These machines must be purchased of the Grover & Baker Sewing-machine Company, who are exclusive proprietors of this stitch, or their licenses, or the use of them will subject the purchaser to prosecution. AMUSEMENTS

Pirk a Opera-novem.—Sidney Frances Bateman's comedy of Self, will be presented this evening at the Opera-house. It is her best production, and several years ago had quite a successful run in this city. It has not lost any of its interest, and cast and mounted as it will be this evening we doubt not will attract a large audience. The performance will conclude with The Specter not will attract a large audience. The per-formance will conclude with The Specter Bridegroom, with Mr. Hale as "Diggory."

NATIONAL THEATER.—The Wife's Becret still keeps the stage at this ostablishment. Jane Coombs makes new friends nightly by her chaste and natural impersonation of "Lady Amyott," while the vivacious Addie Proctor enacts the part of "Maud" in excellent style. The play will be repeated this evening, in connection with Urgent Private Affairs.

Woon's Theaver.—The Siegrist and Zanfretta Troupe are performing nightly to large and delighted audiences. Their pantomimes, tight-rope performances, and gymnastic feats, are each excellent in their way, and deserve to be seen. The programme for this evening is a very good one, and should draw a crowded house.

Shith & Nixon's Hall.—Thiodon's Museum of Arts forms a delightful entertainment, that should be witnessed by every admirer of the wonderful in mechanism, or the beautiful in art. It will remain no longer than this week, and those who have not seen it should embrace the present opportunity. tunity.

THE VOTE AND THE CENEUS OF HAMILTON County.—There are some persons, we be-lieve, who think the census of Hamilton County was taken correctly, and certain officials have boasted that their estimate, based upon the vote, was very nearly cor-rect, and use this as an argument in favor of rect, and use this as an argument in favor of their position. We respectfully suggest to all these individuals the propriety of comparing the following facts and figures with the census returns in the Marshal's office, and then decide in the premises:

On Tuesday last, 33, 708 votes were polled in Hamilton County. Now, calculating eight inhabitants for each voter, the population amounts to 269,604, which, we believe, is 33,061 more than is shown by the returns of the census-marshals. That we may approximate still nearer the truth, for we do not pretend that these figures are exact, 24,497 votes were polled in the city, and according to this, it should contain at least 190,976 inhabitants, or 29,976 more than the census returns show.

The City Council has been petitioned in regard to the matter, and we hope successfully. It would be worth the cost to have the matter definitely settled; and as our merchants seem to be of the opinion that justice has not been done by the marshals, we doubt not they will insist upon a new census until it is taken.

PERSONAL.—At a regular meeting of the Board of Directors of Farmers' College, Jacob Tuckerman, A. M., was elected President of the institution.

RIVER NEWS.

The Ohio, opposite this port, continues to swell, though rather slowly, having risen, during the twenty-four hours ending last evening, some ten or twelve inches, making, according to the Water-works report, a channel-depth at this point of nine feet. At Pittaburg the river continued rising yesterday, with thirteen feet aix inches there at noon.

Yesterday was a mild and spring-like day, with a fresh breeze and a slightly humid atmosphere, indicating rain. Early in the evening there was a diminutive sprinkle, which continued for a few minutes only. The prospect is that we shall have some rain before to-morrow evening.

Business on the Landing was fair yesterday, with no marked activity, however, nor as much briskness as there should be at this season. Freights were scarce for the upper ports, but in tolerable supply for Memphis, New Orleans and St. Louis.

Yesterday's Louisville Courier observes.

The River was still rising restorday, with three feet six inches water in the Canal last evening by the mark. Buring the provious wenty-four house it had risen fully two inches at the head of the Falls, equal to half a foot at Portland, making the water on the bar last evening about six and one-half feet. The weather was delightfully clear and pleasant, though rather was not it is season on the year.

The Folend, which got here early yesterday morning, reports the lower thin year lower hare. Blar roports having passed several boats hard aground, all of which have been previously mentioned in the Compres. Yesterday's Louisville Courier observes:

of which have been previously mentioned in the Course.

The Cumberland River at Nashville is swelling, and had risen twelve inches up to Monday night. The Nashville papers report hard rains in that section, and the general opinion was that there would be a good stage of water there before long.

The A. W. Quarrier was sold at ithe Memphis wharf Friday for $8,000 to Messra. Dural & Rogers. She was to have left that place Monday for this city.

Saturday's New Orleans papers state:

Monday for this city.

Saturday's New Orleans papers state:

The Ashland is to have her guards widened, giving her a greater capacity for cotton, after which she will enter the Ouachita trade as a regular packer. The Carrier, that came down to enter the White Biver trade, is engaged to take a load of salt to St. Leuis, and saves to-day. The Uches, a new hoat, that came down to go over to Florida, has outsed protest here, having met with an accident in the Ohio, and picking up a sing in the Lower Missiasippi, which tore away several of her timbers.

The Missiasippi River at St. Louis was stationary at last mail accounts, with five and a half feet to Cairo. The Illinois was swelling, according to the mail advices, with thirty inches from the mouth to Napies, and twenty-five inches from Naples to Peoria.

The Upper Mississippi is stationary, with twenty-three inches on the Lower Rapids, and four feet between Keokuk and this port.

The Missouri River is falling with eight and a half feet in the channel from Weston down. We have no late report of the state of the river above Weston, but it is doubtless very low.

The Lovers of Flowers Ruskin, in his recent volume, says:

Ruskin, in his recent volume, says:

I only note the fact briefly, that impressions of awe and sorrow being at the root of the sensation of sublimity, and the beauty of separate flowers not being of the kind which connects itself with such sensation, there is a wide distinction, in general, between flower-loving minds and minds of the highest order. Flowers seem intended for the solace of ordinary humanity: children love them; quiet, tender, contented ordinary people love them as they grow; luxurious and disorderly people rejoice in them gathered. They are the cottager's treasure; and in the crowded town, mark, as with a little broken fragment of rainbow, the windows of the workers in whose heart rests the covenant of peace. Passionate or religious minds contemplate them with fond, feverish intensity; the affection is seen severely calm in the works of many old religious painters, and mixed with more open and true country sentiment in those of our own pre-Raphaelites. To the child and the girl, the peacant and the manufacturing operative, to the grisette and the nun, the lover and monk, they are precious always. But to the men or supreture power and thoughtfulness, precious only at limes; symbolically and pathetically often to the poets, but rarely for their own asks. They full forpotten from the great workmen's and soldiers hands. Such then will take, in thankfulness, crowns of lowers.

workmen, named Owen Clarke.

What caused the accident no one can tell, and strange as it may seem no one saw it. The arch had been set about half an hour, and the workmen were engaged in getting another stone ready, when the man and arch were seen in the air, and in an instant, mangled and senseless, he was taken up from the sidewalk.

James Wolfendell, who was engaged at the derrick below, made an effort to escape from the falling mass, but was unsuccessful. He was struck in the side, his thigh crushed, his face bruised, his adomen injured and his body severely cut in several places. He was removed to a drug-store, where his wounds were attended, after which he was removed to his residence in Longworth's building, Sixth-street near Culvert. It is hardly possible for him to recover from his injuries, which in all probability will leave his wife and four children to the charities of the world.

Owen Clarke, who fell as above stated.

his wife and four children to the charities of the world.

Owen Clarke, who fell as above stated, was crushed almost to atoms. His thighs were both broken, his legs crushed; his nasal-bone fractured, and his head and body almost jellied by the shock. He resided with a wife and eleven children, on Front-street near Mill. He was carried immediately to the Commercial Hospital, where he will probably die before this paragasph will reach our readers. The accident is shocking, from the fact that two women have been widowed and fifteen children left fatherless by it, and should appeal to the philanthropic in their behalf.
